DEDICATION

Martha Adams

Angela Cosimano

We, the members of the class of 1981 of Science High, being of sound mind (?), do hereby dedicate this yearbook to two women who have done more for us than anyone else.

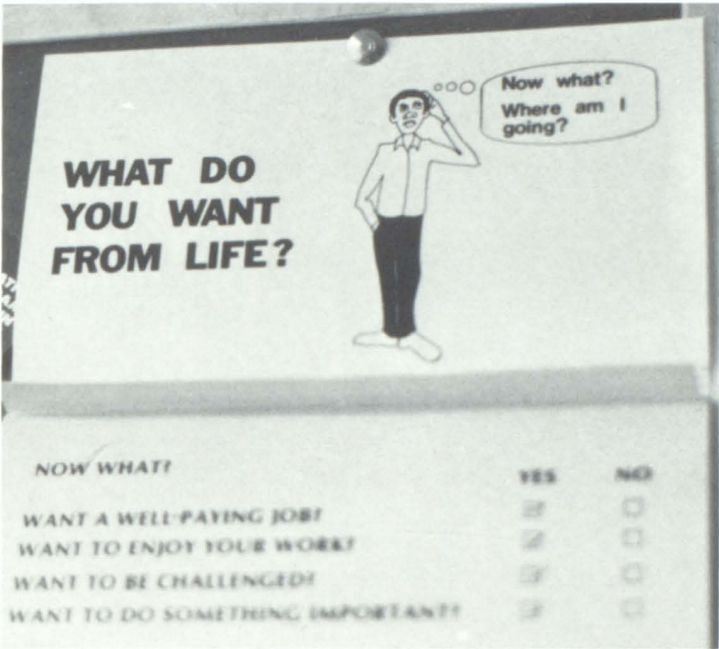

They are Mrs. Martha Adams and Ms. Angela Cosimano. The dedication of this yearbook to them is our way of saying, "Thanks, for being there, for understanding, and for caring."

SYNERGIST

syn-er-gist (sĭn er-jĭst) The action of two or more substances, organs, or organisms to achieve an effect of which each is individually incapable. < GK sunergos, working together. — American Heritage Dictionary of the English Language, page 704

CLASS OF

Individually, we strive to grasp the concepts of learning.

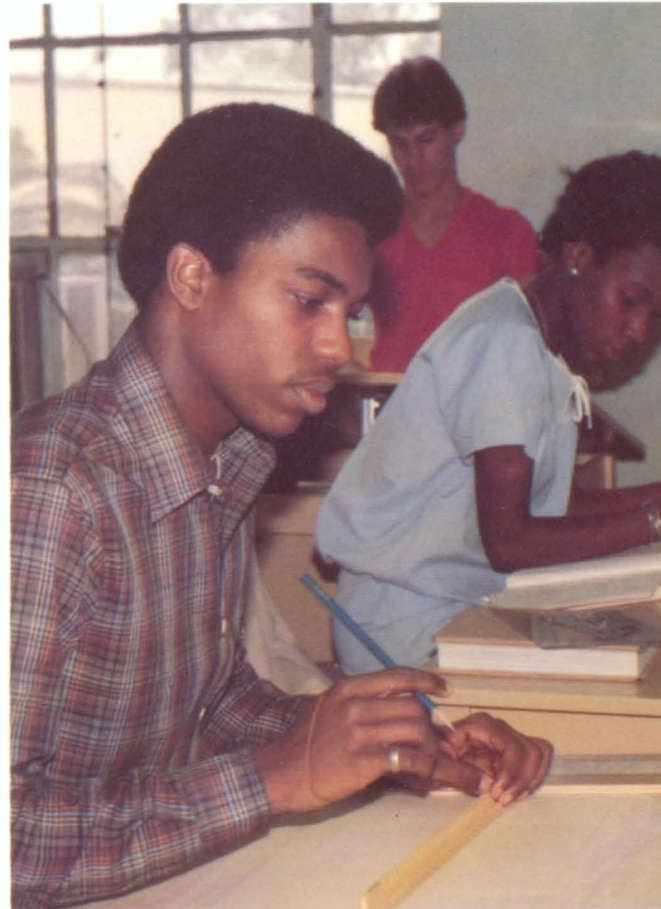

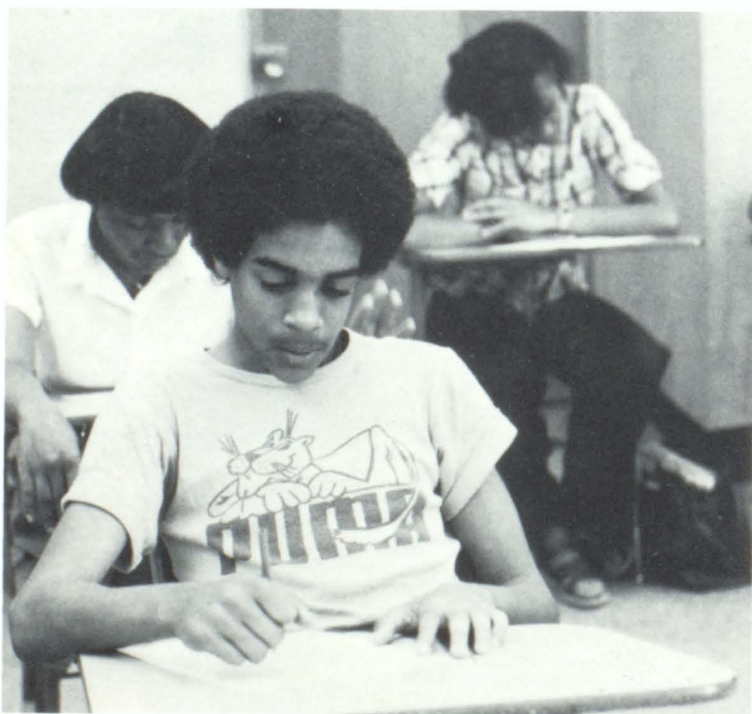

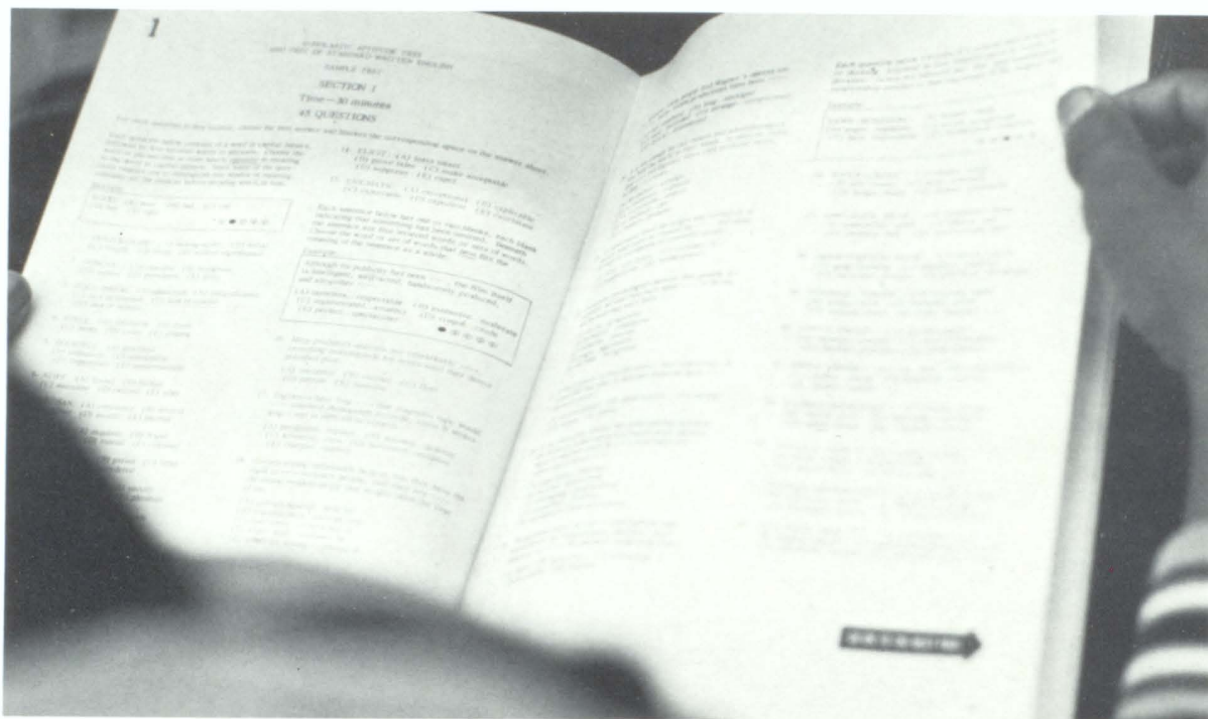

United, we enjoy the gratification of having learned.

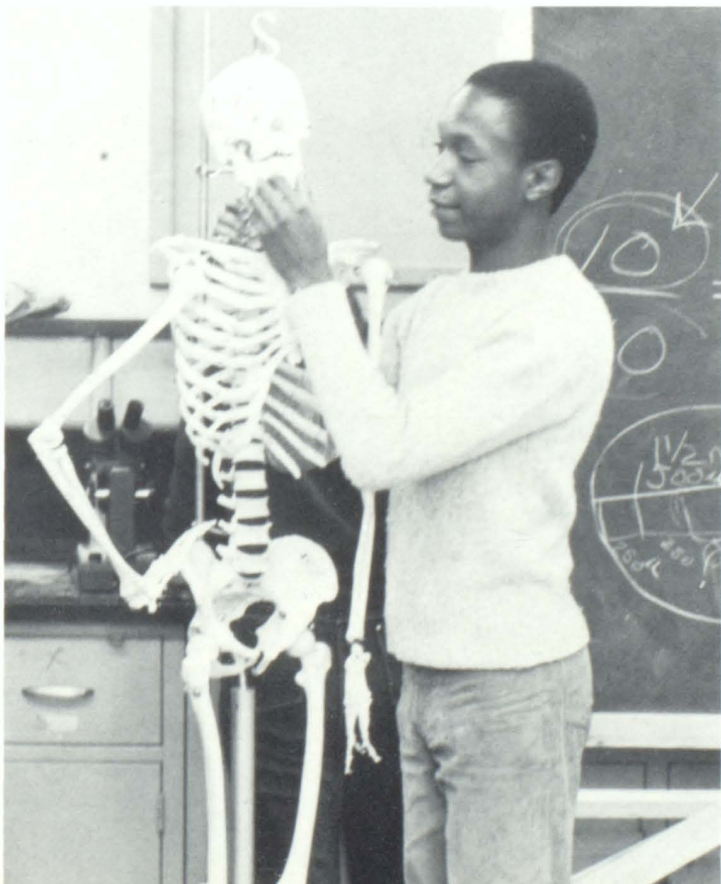

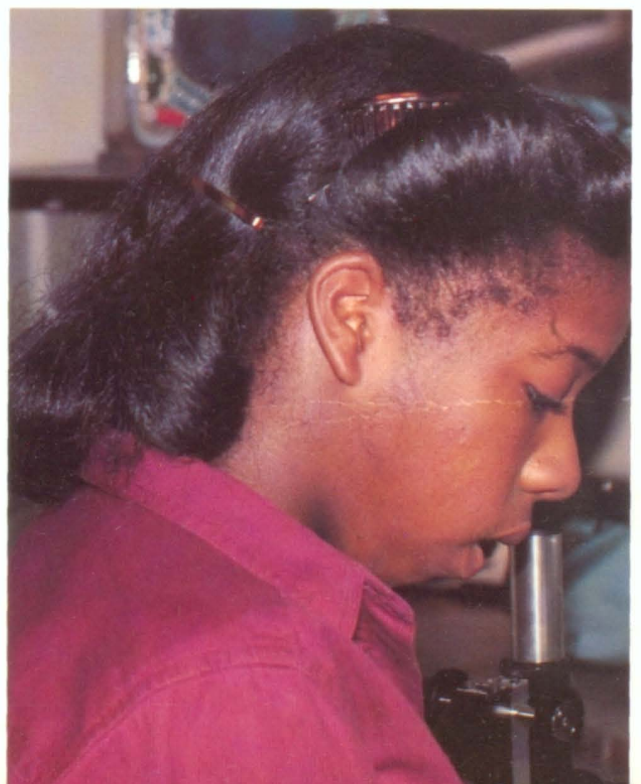

Together, we combine to create an impenetrable bond, strong enough to make us realize that . . .

... IT CAN BE DONE!

It's Only Just Begun

Many of us will be leaving here soon and returning only to see how the school changes through the years. Leaving high school seems like a big step — a great accomplishment. Little do we realize, it's only just begun.

Science High, like all other high schools, is just a pit-stop between grammar school and college. We were in our in-between years (post puberty, pre-stay up past-11:00-stage) , so they sent us here to mature, using education as an excuse. Most of us "Killed two birds with one stone." We've managed to mature into fine young men and women while also receiving a good education.

Now, the hard part begins — the decision-making process. We have to decide whether to go to college, the Armed Forces, work, or just bum around for the rest of our lives.

Statistics say that one out of every ten of us will not make it! Let's make a liar out of them by making the Science High graduating Class of 1981 100% successful. Once we reach the top, and we will, it's important to remember not just where we came from, but how we got there.
